SONOMA, APRIL 3, 1897.

INSURANCE RATES AND WATER

The insurance war which has been waged between the different insurance companies of San Francisco the past two years is now at an end. The agreement to restore the old rates was reached so unexpectedly that it took everybody by surprise in that city. Resurveys will be made at once in all the interior towns and where it is found that during the past two years there has been improvements in the fire and water service a favorable adjustment of rates will be made.

Now that a new compact has been formed by the big companies the people of Sonoma may look for an increase in insurance rates. It is claimed, and no one can dispute the fact, that this town, in so far as its water service is concerned, is practically at the mercy of the Fire Fiend. The burning of the Catholic Church last summer proved this without a doubt. If a fire should break out in the business or residence part of town our people would be powerless to successfully combat the flames. It is true we have a well equipped fire company manned by as brave and fearless men as ever responded to an alarm bell, but with our present water system their hands are practically tied in so far as fighting fire with water is concerned. The firemen know this and realizing the peril of the town are almost a unit in favor of the proposition for a municipal ownership of water works.

In a matter of this kind self-interest should be set aside and all should pull together to secure to Sonoma the proposed gravity water system, which will place the town in the front rank of all the progressive villages in the State and not only enable it to cope successfully with the Fire Fiend but likewise give to its inhabitants an abundance of pure and wholesome water for domestic purposes.

The proposed new water system means everything for Sonoma. It means work for the workingman. It means business for the business man. It means a great saving on insurance rates, and more than all it means a bright future for Sonoma, which has too long been dominated by those who have sacrificed everything of a public nature for self-interest.

THE HOME MERCHANT.

Too many of our people find trivial excuses to do a portion or all of their trading in San Francisco, says the Modesto News. They forget that they reside in this city, only when they desire credit or some other favor from the town merchant.

Who is the town merchant? He is the man who helps pay for the streets on which you walk, and the lights which keep you from falling in chuckholes on your way home.

He is the man who helps support your schools, and pays also for the maintenance of your churches.

He is the man who builds his house among you, and rears his family in his chosen home.

He is the man who first subscribes to every charity which comes along, and is not at all times the gainer by his liberality.

He is the man who cannot afford to swindle you, for he wants your trade, and to merit it, he must give you value received.

Dull days and brisk ones find him at hand, ready to share his part of the expenses of city government, and waiting to back the town in any move for its betterment.

Self interest alone should prompt you to patronize him, and if you do this, you will find you are making money in the long run.

EVERYTHING seems to favor a municipal ownership of water works in this town. The recent Legislature passed an Act empowering incorporated cities to sell water outside of their limits. Governor Budd attached his signature to the Act last week and it is now in force. This law will enable Sonoma should our citizens decide to own and control their own water system to supply consumers just outside the eastern and southern limits of town.

No proposition has ever come up for discussion in this town that is fraught with so much importance to its future prosperity as the water question. We have had our Sonoma Valley Exhibit at the Mechanics' Fair. We have entertained in their order the Mexican War Veterans, the Teachers, the Bear Flag survivors and Native Sons. We have also had our Midwinter Fair Carnival. These, in a way, have helped both town and valley along, and have proved to the outer world that the people of Sonoma Valley are the most hospitable entertainers in California. All these were but things of a day and cost our people a neat little sum of money, who with characteristic liberality have always been willing to do something for others. It is now about time they were doing something for themselves. That chance will soon be offered by the Board of City Trustees, who will shortly present to the people of Sonoma a proposition to own and control their own water system. Should this proposition carry it will infuse new life into the town and prove of lasting benefit to its people. Should it be defeated, however, Sonoma will be the laughing stock of the entire State and receive a back-set that it will take her years to recover from.

The Assembly has defeated the woman suffrage amendment, so that the question of political equality cannot be again voted on at the election two years hence, says the San Jose Mercury. It is to be regretted that a single Republican member should have stultified himself by voting against the measure. The Republican party in this State is on record as favoring woman suffrage, and its representatives ought to possess the manhood to stand by their convictions. As a matter of fact the majority did, and the amendment lacked only a few votes of receiving the required two-thirds.

Considerable excitement has been caused in Santa Rosa by the finding of a number of pieces of pure gold in the Rincon hills near that city. A few days ago a number of pieces of gold-bearing rock were found which assays showed to be very valuable. Monday afternoon F. White brought in a number of pieces of gold-bearing quartz. Experts claim that this ore can be mined with profit.

Bernard Levy Takes a Dose of Poison.

Bernard Levy, a former resident and at one time a prosperous merchant of this place, attempted to commit suicide in San Francisco last Wednesday by taking a dose of laudanum. He was discovered in Columbia Park in an unconscious condition and taken to the Receiving Hospital to be treated, and the doctors say there are slight hopes of his recovery. On his person was found the following letter:

San Francisco, March 31, '97. It is my request that all my personal effects be given to my youngest boy, Max Levy, who now rooms at 740 Harrison street, in this city, and I do not want any one who claims relationship to me to follow my corpse or to see my remains.

BERNARD LEVY. Levy was 60 years of age and was sick and despondent.

Haunted! The human tenement is often haunted—by those malignant spirits, constipation and biliousness. But the abominable pair may be speedily driven out with the potent help of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This genial alterative, while it relieves the bowels and regulates the liver, never, as a drastic purgative does, produces violent effects and weakens the intestines. On the contrary, the action of the Bitters is precisely analogous to an effort of nature seeking to resume her proper functions. This furnishes pretty conclusive evidence that it is better to use persuasive means, so to speak, than to endeavor to coerce nature to a return to duty. Violent remedies produce only temporary effect, malarial and kidney complaints, rheumatism and nervousness, the Bitters takes highest rank among remedies of the philosophic school.

Perfumed flannels in dainty colors come now for laying in the bottom of drawers, and are particularly nice in drawers where bedding and table linens are kept. They have the appearance of ordinary flannel, and are sold by the yard and cut to fit the drawers, the edges being buttonholed or bound. The flannel emits a delicate perfume and will scent every article in a drawer where it is kept. The perfume is said to be far more enduring than any of the sachets commonly in use.

Shirt waists have a very positive place among the early spring fashions, and as many women make their own long before there is any need of these garments, a few models may serve as suggestions. The principal difference between the new and those of last season is that they have crosswise tucked yokes, and the fullness distributed across the front instead of bunched in the center. The sleeves are smaller, and the shirts all have the detachable linen collars and cuffs.

Ordinance No. 52.

Title.—An Ordinance determining that the public interest and necessity of the City of Sonoma demand the acquisition, construction and completion by said City of a permanent system of municipal water-works, and of all things connected with the use thereof.

Section 1. It is hereby determined and declared that the public interest and necessity of the City of Sonoma, demand the acquisition, construction and completion by said City of a permanent system of municipal water works, including all necessary lands, rights of way, water rights, distributing pipes, leases, contracts for the supplying of water, structures, aqueducts, reservoirs, wells, tanks, machinery for the same, and all other things necessary for the proper use thereof, to supply the City of Sonoma, and the inhabitants thereof, with a sufficient quantity of pure, fresh water for domestic use, and for the use of the Fire Department, and for flushing sewers, sprinkling streets, and other purposes.

It is also hereby determined and declared that the cost of the acquisition, construction and completion of the aforesaid system of Water Works by said City, will be too great to be paid out of the ordinary annual income and revenue of the said City of Sonoma.

Section 2. Upon the approval hereof by the President of the Board of Trustees of the City of Sonoma this ordinance shall be published for at least two weeks consecutively in THE SONOMA INDEX-TRIBUNE, a newspaper of general circulation printed and published in said City of Sonoma, and the Clerk of the Board of Trustees of said City of Sonoma is hereby authorized and directed to cause said publication of this ordinance to be made as aforesaid.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

That Voyage to the Manless Isle in the South Seas.

S. Schocken of this place received a letter from Geo. Spanning, who recently joined a band of adventurers on a sailing voyage to the South Sea Islands. The letter, which was mailed at Honolulu, notes the safe arrival of the brig Percy Edwards off that port on the 15th of last month. George writes that two days after leaving San Francisco they were overtaken by a fearful storm and for a time it looked as though all hands were bound for Davy Jones' locker. The craft, however, pulled through all right, but in a leaky condition. She was hove to for a couple of days, made seaworthy and again proceeded on her journey. During the voyage his setter dog "Sport" took a header from off deck into the sea and disappeared beneath the billows. Jack Mitchell, who accompanied him as his chum, was taken sea sick immediately after leaving San Francisco and for a time was one of the most disgusted men aboard the brig. George sends his regards to all his Sonoma friends and says that as soon as he reaches "that little old island in the South Seas" that he will write up a full account of his adventures for the INDEX-TRIBUNE. The voyagers expect to reach their destination about May 15th.

Sold by the Sheriff.

A portion of the Schell ranch, near Schellville, embracing 1328 acres, was sold at Sheriff's sale in front of the Court House, Santa Rosa, last Wednesday. The sale was made in two separate parcels to satisfy judgments obtained against Georgiana Schell and other defendants by the Bank of Sonoma County. The first tract, against which rested a judgment of $6,500 sold for $2,500. The second tract was sold for $10,448, the full amount of the judgment. The purchaser was May B. Curtis, who held an interest in the property and was one of the defendants in the foreclosure suit.

Dastardly.

On Monday evening last a horse and buggy belonging to J. E. Veirs was left tied to a hitching post in front of the Union Hotel, and during the absence of the owner some miscreant, under the cover of darkness, cut one of the lines up close to the bit. The cut did not entirely sever the line, which was held together by a mere thread, the object being to have the line break as soon as the owner attempted to drive off. Fortunately the animal was a gentle one and Mr. Veirs escaped a serious accident. Should the guilty parties be discovered they will be arrested and severely dealt with.

Pub. Documents.

Hon. John A. Barham, Congressman from this district, has placed us under obligations for "The Messages and Papers of the President" in five handsomely bound volumes of over six hundred pages each. The work, which has been published by authority of Congress, contains all the important messages and papers of every President of the United States from Washington down to Cleveland and is handsomely embellished with steel engravings.

Marti Will Contest.

An answer denying undue influence was filed in the Superior Court last Saturday by the attorneys for Mrs. Elisabeth Marti in the will contest entered into by Mrs. Anna Marti Anderson, sister of M. Marti, the deceased dairyman. The suit gives promise of being a bitterly contested one.

Civil Suit.

N. L. Donovan of Santa Rosa of the firm of Kopf & Donovan has instituted suit against J. P. Weems of this place to recover a security debt of several hundred dollars. The suit is the outcome of the failure of Frank Weems, who engaged in the grocery business in this town over a year ago.

The High School.

The regular quarterly meeting of the High School Trustees will be held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Several important matters will come up for consideration.

The Eagle Hotel, Santa Rosa, gives special rate to families jurors and persons attending court. See ad.

Another Robbery.

Robberies in this valley have become quite frequent in the past few weeks, a number of which have already been recorded in these columns. On Wednesday of last week a house on Robt. Hall's ranch, occupied by Chinese, was broken into and $115 and a gold ring secured by the thieves. On Tuesday morning last the house of foreman Lewis on Robt. Howe's farm, was entered during the absence of Mr. Lewis and almost everything in sight was carried off. The swag consisted of suits of clothes, a silver watch, gold ring, breastpin, ear rings and a pocket book which contained a number of notes and other valuable papers. Sheriff Sam Allen and Deputy Sheriff Ohm, being notified of the robberies, have left no stone unturned to arrest the thieves, who are supposed to be tramps. A number of the genus hobo have been overhauled and searched by the officers, but as nothing that would connect them with the robberies was found concealed upon their persons they were turned loose. The thieves, after securing the booty, evidently cached it somewhere in the vicinity of the robberies.

Open Season for Trout.

The open season for trout fishing was ushered in last Thursday by high and muddy waters in the various streams in this valley, the rain on Wednesday having swollen Sonoma creek and its numerous tributaries considerable. Should there be no rain to-day excellent fishing can be had to-morrow in any of the small streams in the vicinity of Sonoma and Glen Ellen. Sonoma creek will afford fine sport later in the season. The favorite streams of the "country jake" in this vicinity at this time of the year are Agua Caliente, Fowler, Leno, Hooker, Stuart, Rogers, Nun's and Graham canyons and the small streams, of which there are three, at the head waters of Sonoma creek in the vicinity of Hood's Mountain. Good fishing can also be relied upon in the vicinity of Vollmar's Hotel, Embarcadero. A number of the "city squash" are expected up to-morrow with rod, reel and line and we predict for them fine sport.

Dead Men Don't Walk off that Way.

On Tuesday evening last George Breitenbach while riding rapidly home on his wheel collided with the INDEX-TRIBUNE's setter pup. He was thrown high in the air and struck the ground with a dull thud that nearly knocked the breath out of him. An urchin, who is noted for his exaggeration, immediately alarmed the neighborhood with the cry that he had been killed. A rush was made by several people toward the spot where the accident happened when George was seen walking away toting his wheel alongside of him. A bystander was heard to remark that "dead men don't walk off that way." The unfortunate bicyclist, however, had his wheel wrecked and suffered a dislocation of one of his thumbs. George still lives to fight the water proposition.

Sent up for Twenty Days.

Geo. Clark and V. Dugan, hobos, were arrested near town last Wednesday morning by Deputy Sheriff Ohm and charged with vagrancy. They were temporarily placed in durance vile and on the afternoon of the same day were taken before Judge Cheney, and pleading guilty to the charge were sentenced to the County Jail for twenty days. The hobo nuisance has become almost unbearable in this valley and the frequent robberies of late have caused Sheriff Sam Allen to issue an order to his deputies to arrest all vagrants and suspicious characters, as something has to be done to protect the community from the raids of the vagabonds.

A Quiet Wedding.

Meyer Moses and Miss S. Cochran, both of San Francisco, arrived in town on the morning train on Sunday last and shortly after repaired to the residence of Justice of the Peace Cheney, and introducing themselves informed the Judge that they wished to be married. They produced their license and in a few minutes were made man and wife by the accommodating Judge. Deponeth sayeth not whether he kissed the bride in extending the happy couple his congratulations after he had tied the nuptial knot. The couple, who are strangers here, returned to the city on the afternoon train.

Appointed Administratrix.

Mrs. Elisabeth Marti, widow of the late M. Marti, on Monday last, was appointed by Judge Burnett administratrix of the will of her late husband. Her bond was fixed at $25,000.

SCHELLVILLE SIFTINGS

Mrs. A. Bates of Sonoma was the guest of Schellville relatives Sunday.

Mrs. Schon of San Francisco is visiting Mrs. Stademan of Embarcadero.

Mrs. Chas. Ohm has returned from a week's visit with her mother in San Francisco.

Miss Margaret Burke spent last Saturday and Sunday with her parents in San Francisco.

Mrs. M. Donahue has returned from the city after a visit of two weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Burns.

Sheriff Allen and Deputy Sheriff Ohm passed through this place one day this week on their way to Vallejo.

Mrs. A. Alleman died on the Ringstrom farm, near this place, on Wednesday morning last. Deceased had long been a sufferer from consumption. Mrs. Alleman was a native of Switzerland and aged 61 years. The funeral took place last Thursday, the remains being laid to rest in the Mountain Cemetery of Sonoma.

TRILBY.

Broke His Ankle.

Clerice Felice, a teamster in the employ of Dresel & Co., on Saturday made a misstep and fell heavily to the ground, breaking his right ankle. This is the second time that Felice has suffered a broken limb, his left leg having been fractured a number of years ago. Dr. Walliser attended the injured man and under his skillful care he will soon be up and around again.

Glen Ellen Hotel.

Wm. Sobbe, for many years station agent of the Donahue railway at Glen Ellen, has taken charge of the Glen Ellen Hotel, recently vacated by John Hendley Billy, as he is familiarly called, is a genial, whole-souled fellow and his many friends in this valley wish him success in his new venture.

COUNTY CLEANINGS.

Herman Doden, who recently fired several shots at a party of Healdsburg surveyors, has been sentenced to 75 days in the County Jail or a fine of $150.

Aaron Barnes died Sunday at his home in Sebastopol. He was one of the early settlers in Sonoma county and was 81 years and 6 days old. He was a native of Pennsylvania. He came to California in 1850 and was engaged in mining for many years.

Monday Judge Burnett sentenced Thomas Kelly to five years in Folsom prison for shooting Ira Stewart at Bloomfield a few months ago. Stay of sentence was granted pending an appeal to the Supreme Court. Kelly's counsel moved Friday for a new trial but the court denied the motion.

Robt. Clark, residing near the Great Western mine at Guerneville, was found dead in bed on Friday of last week. Mr. Clark had been ailing for a few days. He was sixty-seven years of age. Saturday morning Corner Thos. Young held an inquest over the body. A verdict of "death from natural causes" was returned by the jury.

The following transfers of wine were recorded Saturday at the County Recorder's office: D. Lorenzini & Co., of Healdsburg to the California Wine Makers' Corporation, 80,000 gallons of dry red wine; F. Albertz of the Moulton Hill Vineyard, Cloverdale, to Landsberger & Sons, San Francisco, 20,000 gallons of sherry.

Ex-Senator E. C. Hinshaw, says the Santa Rosa Democrat, met with a serious accident Tuesday afternoon while at work on his farm near Bloomfield. A farm hand, who was assisting him, threw a heavy willow tree into a ditch, striking Mr. Hinshaw on the head with full force, laying open the scalp to the bone. He was taken to the house, where he lay for two hours unconscious. Dr. Smith was summoned and made the patient as comfortable as possible.

Schilling's Best is simply good honest tea, well graded, fresh-roasted, packed air-tight.

O. Muser, A. D. Lowell and Henry Hyde were visitors to the metropolis from Vineyard Station Saturday.

Dr. Walliser purchased this week from Geo. Breitenbach a fine '97 Columbia bicycle. It is one of the finest wheels in the county and cost $100. Dr. Walliser will use the wheel in making short and rapid visits to his many patients in this valley.

Fred. Smith, engineer of the Empire, belonging to the Pless Dredging Company, was in town Wednesday. The Empire is now tied up at the foot of Market street, Oakland.

John Hammond of Napa is the guest of his sister, Mrs. Robt. Howe, at Eden Dale.

Supervisor Putnam of Vallejo Township was in town last Wednesday looking out for the interests of his constituents in this valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon of San Francisco have taken a year's leave of the Lawrence place.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Oatle of San Francisco have leased the Fay place on Second-street East and will take up their residence here for the next year or two.

Wm. Kiser, formerly of this place but now of Arizona, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Enfield.

Robt. Hill of Eldridge returned Sunday evening from a visit to the city.

F. Clewe, one of Sonoma's prominent merchants, visited San Francisco one day the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. N. Cheney were the guests of Fulton relatives last Sunday.

S. Stacey of Kenwood had business in town this week.

Chas. Carhill has accepted a position on the Redwood Thompson ranch near Glen Ellen.

Robt. Pasch has returned from San Francisco, where he has been in business the past year, and will resume his old position as clerk in S. Schocken's store. Bob's many Sonoma friends will be pleased to hear of his return.

Mr. L. Kapland, for the past year clerk in Schocken's store, has resigned his position and on Thursday left for San Francisco.

Moths may be kept from furs and woollens, United States Entomologists L. O. Howard concludes, by cold storage during the summer at 40 degrees to 42 degrees F.

Mrs. G. M. Brush, fashionable dressmaker, 852 Main st., Petaluma. M. Powell of San Francisco is in town looking after his property interests.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Zane of San Jose are visiting at the Johnson residence.

Dr. Chas. Lowell of San Francisco is visiting at the home of his parents on the Napa road.

Stewart Elliott has contracted the measles and is quite ill at his home, the Occidental Hotel, San Francisco.

Mr. Roberts, a teacher of elocution in San Jose, was in town yesterday.

Mrs. Ella Wade of San Francisco came up this week to spend a month with Sonoma relatives.

Chas. Champlin is recovering from his recent illness.

A. T. Lewis drove over to Petaluma this week with a load of oranges, which went off like hot cakes to the local merchants.

Judge S. K. Dougherty and wife were presented with a son, which was born to them on the 31st of March.

There is a plague of tramps at Sonoma, says the San Francisco Post, and the people are figuring the distance from Sacramento and wondering if the Legislature has walked over to their fair burg.

J. H. Seipp, President of the Board of City Trustees, returned from a week's visit with San Francisco relatives on Thursday evening last.

Walter Murphy, who returned from Sacramento several weeks ago with the measles, is up and around again.

Hubert Munfrey is now employed on the Jones ranch.

Mrs. F. T. Duhring and son spent several days of the past week in San Francisco.

Local Brevities.

Try the new Milliner, Miss F. English, 852 Main st., Petaluma.

Several fine baskets of trout were caught in the various streams near town yesterday.

Yesterday was the finest day of the season, and reminded one that spring is with us again.

Groceries at San Francisco prices at Schocken's. Mens' shoes, razor too, from $1.75 to $3.00.

The City Trustees will meet next Wednesday in regular session. The meeting will be an important one.

The mornings the past week have been cold and frosty and it is feared that peaches and apricots have been seriously injured.

Harry Weise of Gilroy has purchased the well-known stallion Vasto from the executors of the Fair estate. Vasto has a record of 2:14, and has been stable the past few years at the Fair race track near this place.

Fred. Spaulding came up from San Francisco Thursday with rod, reel and line. It has been reported that his was "fisherman's luck," but this hardly seems probable, as he has the reputation of being one of the most expert anglers in the Bay city.

V. Bulotti, owner of the building recently vacated by George Breitenbach, has improved the same by putting on a new front and new roof. An addition has also been built on in the rear. The building, when the improvements are completed, will be occupied by Wm. Kerner as a first-class saloon.

Geo. Breitenbach, our genial harness maker, had an old well cleaned out in the rear of his premises, one day this week, which will supply him with drinking water in the future. He says it is good enough for him. Advocates of a municipal ownership of water works are cautioned against slaking their thirst from that old well as the go-ahead enterprising people of this town will need their votes on election day.

George Green, champion welter-weight of the world, accompanied by Frank Foster, champion all around athlete of the Pacific Coast, arrived at Glen Ellen Sunday evening last and will spend a couple of weeks at that little burg. George is an old favorite at the Mervyn Hotel, where he is the guest of A. Harrison. Green and Tommy Ryan are claimants to the welter-weight championship of the world and they will probably meet in the ring some time next month in either San Francisco or New York.

At the Eagle Hotel, Santa Rosa, the citizens of Sonoma Valley will find good accommodations at reasonable rates. See ad.

For debutantes nothing is prettier than the sunburst plaited chignon, mounted over white satin, and with sprays of flowers in velvet and silk forming girdle, edging decolletage, and drooping over bare arms and shoulders, forming both straps and sleeves.

REVENGE ON A SNOB.

GETTING EVEN WITH A NEIGHBOR WHO PUT ON AIRS.

The Man Who Made His Money Had a Grudge Against the One Who Inherited Wealth—A Patent Medicine and the Bill-Poster Did the Trick.

This time the drummer was a traveling salesman for a large drug firm in Philadelphia, and he was, as he put it, merely knocking around New York to see if his goods were a drag in the market or not.

"The meanest, low down kind of revenge I ever heard of one man taking on another," he was saying when the conversation first turned around to the anecdotal stage, "was told me the other day. I won't mention names of persons or places, for the parties are still living, but a dozen years ago there was a huckster in the great American public through the newspapers from every dead wall in the city and every fence and barnside in the country, in millions of pamphlets and pictures, and by every means known to the skilled advertiser with unlimited capital, the name and virtues of a medicine that would cure all the ills that flesh is heir to, and this valuable truth was heralded forth with all painful and realistic details until it actually made the reader feel as if he needed some of the cure all as soon as he could get to it.

"In some sections of the country the landscape was alive with the glittering and glaring advertisements of this wonderful medicine, and in one particular city and state it seemed as if every available inch of unoccupied territory was covered with notices of it. Bigger, too, than the name of this medicine was the name of this Napoleon of public benefactors, this healer of mankind, the great discoverer and Blank's Whatever-it-was, and Blank's Whatever-it-was was far more in evidence as Blank's than as Whatever-it-was.

"In the meantime one man in the city referred to above was gnashing his teeth and pulling his hair out by the follicles, and another man was laughing his lungs out. And why? Because one was the revenge, and the other was the revenge.

"And the nub of it is herein. Blank was a wealthy man in the city of Nameless, where the ads. showed up the thickest, and he was ultra swell and un-American and looked down upon earned wealth as compared with the inherited kind—he being an inheritor. He snubbed most of his fellow citizens when he had the chance, but he was particularly ready to down the man who was the architect of his own fortunes. He who made money was too utterly vulgar for anything. Across the street from him lived one of the kind he disliked so heartily, and this man was a millionaire and a gentleman. He had made every cent he possessed and made it honestly, and a snob was one of the objects in life he was gunning for perpetually.

"And Blank was one he had in for more than all the others, for Blank he had with him always. He didn't know just how he was going to obtain his object in life, but he waited and waited in Providence, and one day it came to him in the shape of a formula offered to him by a prominent physician who recommended it as very nearly an infallible remedy in certain cases. He listened quietly, said nothing, took the formula, made up his mind and one Sunday morning every Sunday newspaper in the city of Nameless and in all the cities of the United States fairly blossomed with the circular bill posters of Blank's Wonderful Whatever-it-was, and Blank woke up to find himself famous. He tore the carpets up in his vain pinnings to assuage his wrath, but that did no good, for before the week was out there wasn't a spot on earth within reach of Blank's eye that didn't carry the hateful thing to glare at him and make his life a mockery and a bitterness.

"His was a proud name to be thus dragged through the mire of vulgar printers' ink, but he had no recourse, for the other man had found another Blank, one who wasn't so aristocratic and was willing to sell his good name at a fair price to decorate a patent medicine. It was the same name, yet in law it wasn't, and Blank couldn't do one earthly thing except grow in spite of the curse the day that the man across the street had been born. Once he threatened to challenge his tormentor, but on second thought concluded that it would further advertise himself and the medicine, so he settled down finally to accepting the situation and preserving a dignified silence, which he has done to this day.

"Now, just to show how Providence is always on the side of the right," concluded the drummer, "I may say that the man who risked his money to make Blank's name a burden to him made $500,000 out of the patent medicine, and to add somewhat to the romance of it he gave $25,000 of his earnings to a widowed sister of Blank, who had several children dependent upon her and had but a small income."—New York Sun.

Looking Forward.
"When I am rich," he said haughtily, "I will return and taunt you with the opportunity you have missed."
"When you are rich," she answered calmly, "I trust you will offer to pay for the broken leg of that spindle limbed gilt chair."

And he went forth with a hollow groan.—Cleveland Plain Dealer

Keys are made, to a considerable extent, by machinery, special dies for each variety being employed to cut the wards so as to fit a particular lock. The hollow keys, formerly made altogether by hand, are now in great part manufactured by a machine.

IF ONLY THE DREAM ABIDE.

If the things of earth must pass
Like the dew upon the grass,
Like the mists that break and run
At the forward sweep of the sun,
I shall be satisfied
If only the dream abide.

Nay—I would not be shorn,
Of gold from the mines of morn.
I would not be bereft
Of the last blue flower in the cleft,
Of the haze that haunts the hills,
Of the moon that the midnight fills.
Still would I know the grace
On love's uplifted face
And the slow, sweet joy down there
Under the dusk of her hair.

I pray thee spare me, fate,
The woe, wearying weight
Of a heart that feels no pain
At the sob of the autumn rain,
And takes no breath of glee
From the organ surge of the sea—
Of a mind where memory broods
Over soulless solitudes.
I shall be satisfied
If only the dream abide.
—Clinton Scollard in Century.

HER MODEL HUSBAND.

Levity Provoked by Her Reply to the Question of a Spinster.

It was at a woman's luncheon, and they had been exchanging opinions in regard to the husband question, both as a whole and with particulars. By the time ice cream was served, the discussion had grown quite heated, and the hostess was beginning to look anxious. At the top of the table the woman in the chiffon vest and her companion in the trimmed gown were at daggers drawn.

"Well, I don't care what any one says, my husband is as good as they make them," said the woman in the chiffon vest excitedly. "He always rocks me to sleep when I have a sick headache, and he gets breakfast when the cook is away, and he always gets up in the night if the baby cries." She glared at the woman in the trimmed gown triumphantly, and she in turn glared back and took up the parable of speech.

"Well, my husband," she remarked, with a strong accent upon the possessive case, "never does any of those things. I should be sorry to see him do any of them. I detest a man who steps over into his wife's province. But he always looks after the furnace, and I never have to worry about the coal bill."

The woman in the chiffon vest smiled disagreeably, and the hostess was about to interpose when the pretty woman at the foot of the table spoke up.

"My husband does all the things you have mentioned," she said sweetly, "and a lot more. When we have no girl, he washes the dishes and sweeps, and I've never had to get dinner once since we've been married. I always knew he was going to be lovely that way because he said so little about it. I never had much faith in the men who talk so much. When we were first married, we talked about it, and he spoke beautifully. 'I don't say I'll always do it, Jennie,' he said the first time I was without a girl, 'but I'll always help.' And he's been better than his word right along. Last night he even made the porridge, so it would be ready for breakfast this morning, and every morning he brings me a cup of coffee before I get up."

With the smile of a conscious conqueror, she toyed with her menu card and smiled sweetly at the angry women at the other end of the table. They were speechless, but the woman in the gold rimmed glasses who sat in the middle gave her a keen look and smiled too.

"Something has got to be done for the protection of us poor spinsters," she said merrily, "and if any one else tells a husband story I shall retaliate with a tale regarding a wonderful cat which I possess. But first, before we quit the subject, let me ask a question. How long," turning to the pretty woman, "have you been married?"

"Nearly two weeks," she stammered out timidly. "And the other women laughed in the unfeeling manner they so often affect."—Chicago Tribune.

Following Directions.

Jones had been quite ill. One day the doctor called and found him in a bathtub.

"Why, man, are you crazy? You must be anxious to die."
"No, I ain't," protested poor Jones, "but didn't you say that your last medicine was to be taken in water?"—London Ansvers.

The Usual Way.

"Papa," said Jacky, "would you like to have me give you a birthday present?"

"Yes, indeed."
"Then now is the time to double my weekly pocket money, so's I'll have the money to buy it when your birthday comes."—Pearson's Weekly.

NO BACKSHEESH.

Arabs Will Not Accept Any Gifts From Their Desert Guests.

R. Talbot Kelly, an English artist who has lived long among the Arabs, writes and illustrates a paper entitled "In the Desert With the Bedouin," which appears in the Century. In discussing Arabian hospitality, Mr. Kelly says: I had not much time for quiet observation, as one by one all the head men of the tribe called to pay their respects to the stranger within their gates. Taking off his shoes at the entrance, each one advanced with many salaams and, kissing my hand, uttered the single word, "Mahmubbah" ("Welcome"). They then seated themselves in a long row at the other side of the tent, discussing me in undertones. No one spoke to me unaddressed, and even the sheik himself, whose guest I was, would not sit on the carpet beside me uninvited. Literally, while the guest of the Bedouin, your tent is sacred, and all the tribe are your willing servants, and, though I have repeatedly paid comparatively long visits to them, I have never yet succeeded in pressing a gift upon my host.

I remember asking the sheik Saoud el Tahoui, chief of the Hamarati Arabs, if he knew any of the pyramidal Arabs at Gizeh. He replied, spitting upon the ground, "They are not Bedouins; they take backsheesh," thereby expressing his contempt for mercenary service. On another occasion, while living with the Nephartia, the sheik Mansour Abu Nasrullah had attached to me a young Arab whose special duty it was to attend to my various wants while painting. At the end of the month I tried to induce him to accept a sovereign as backsheesh. Looking much alarmed, he exclaimed: "Oh, my master, I cannot! It is not allowed! The sheik would kill me if he knew I had accepted a gift." And all my arguments failed to persuade him to take the tip.
